

The Child Care Assistance Program CCAP helps pay a portion of the cost of childcare for working families, or families in training or education programs.

Families with low income who meet certain eligibility criteria qualify for the program.

Must be participating in an allowable activity:

- Working (paid employment or self-employed)
- Education or training programs

Temporary allowable activity:

- Beginning March 2021 job search is considered an allowable activity due to COVID-19
- In situations of homelessness, looking for employment, education or training activities, and housing is considered allowable

Age limits:

- Once children are determined eligible, they may receive services until the eligibility period in which they turn 13 years old expires
- A child with special needs may qualify up to age 19

Family Responsibility:

- A co-payment is a share of the child care cost paid by the family
- The co-payment amount is determined on a sliding fee scale¹ based on a family's income and household size
- Beginning March 2021 service month² co-payments for all CCAP families will be waived due to COVID-19.

Asset Limits

- Monthly income from wages, child support, pensions, veteran's benefits or other sources must be less than the CCAP income limits.
